

FLY FISHING GEAR LIST

---

Two rivers run through the property Chimehuín and the Quilquihue. Both are known worldwide for their fish and the magnificence of their waters.

Chimehuín is a bigger river with a few meanders and some brades, 14 km / 9 miles flows right through the property.

A 2,6 km / 1 mile private spring creek is also available.

Quilquihue is 3 times smaller. It is a little steeper and has larger rocks, 7 km / 4.35 miles also flows in the property.

SEASON

Early November to May

FISH

Rainbow and brown trout

RODS

The ideal is bringing 2 rods: 6 weight and 4 weight. In case the angler has to bring only one, make it a 6 or a powerful 5. In high waters and winds the 6 is the best. For the smaller river anglers do great with a 4 and if it is windy a 5 is ideal for the Quilquihue

LINES

Mostly anglers use floating lines. Rarely sink tips or shooting heads (teeny 150,200, etc) are used. The real big guys like to be deep though.

LEADERS & TIPPETS

Tapered leaders are ideal: 9feet 3, 4 and 5x
Tippet rols of 3,4,5 and 6x

FLIES

A classical montana fly box is the ideal, here are a few examples:

DRY FLIES

- ◆ Parachute adams
- ◆ Royal wulff
- ◆ Humpys
- ◆ Irresistibles
- ◆ Any mayfly patterns
- ◆ Blue winged olive
- ◆ Hoppers
- ◆ Beetles
- ◆ Tarantula

NYMPHS

- ◆ Flashback adams
- ◆ Pheasant tail
- ◆ Montanas
- ◆ Hairs ears
- ◆ Any little beedhead

STREAMERS

- ◆ Matukas
- ◆ Wooly buggers
- ◆ Zonkers
- ◆ Muddlers

WADERS

Gore tex, breathable chest high waders are the best, easy to pack and comfortable. Long underwear is “a must”, lightweight for warm weather and a heavy for cold days.

WADING SHOES

Anglers need felt soles. Some of the rivers beats might have slippery rocks so cleats also help. However, the angler can get away without them as well.

OTHERS

Polarizes sun glasses are “a must”, many times anglers might get sight fishing conditions so they really need those. Clear glasses for protection are also a good choice for the evening fishing. Sun screen high protection factor is highly recommended.
